DEAR READERS!

We are pleased to present Uzbekistan Almanac 2011 - a special edition devoted to the 20th anniversary of Independence of the Republic of Uzbekistan. This is the third edition of Almanac series and as you remember the previous two editions were published in 2008 and 2010.

Uzbekistan Almanac is a unique publication which includes valuable information on the dynamic economic reforms, the results of the reform in the sectors of economy and regions, in different spheres of economy including healthcare, education, culture and sports.

The primary intent of the publication is to enhance the awareness of the readers, particularly the government officials, representatives of private sector, scholars and students, local and international investors about key directions and achievements in the socio-economic development of Uzbekistan since it had become independent.

Almanac is published in three languages – in Uzbek, Russian and English.

Materials from the State Committee of the Republic of Uzbekistan on Statistics, ministries and other government authorities, international organizations and institutions have been used while preparing this publication.

All information has been presented in the form of colorful diagrams, charts and tables as it was given in the previous publications.

We highly appreciate the help of ministries and other government authorities, particularly the State Committee of the Republic of Uzbekistan on Statistics and employees of Center for Economic Research whose contribution was invaluable in preparation of Uzbekistan Almanac 2011.
