SUMMARY

Guryanova, N.S. Gerontij Solovetsky – the Autors of the Collection.

This article is devoted to the analysis of the collection, compiled in the XVII century by Gerontij Solovetsky. The author gives particular attention to Gerontij's novel approach towards making such collections of texts, when each significant fragment included into collection was prefaced with the title–annotation (summary). This method allowed placing the fragments of texts with no comments, achieving the desired impact on the reader only by titles.

Key words: old believers' book, collections, quotations, title–annotation, comments, marginalias.

Demidova, L.D. The Tale of Simeon of Suzdal as a Part of the «Christianoопасny schit very...» («Christian-protecting shield of belief...»).

The article analyzes the two chapters of an Old Believers' collection «Christianoопасny schit very» («Christian-protecting shield of belief»). The author reveals methods used by the monk Avraamiy to form the reader's desired attitude to the Tale of the Simeon of Suzdal.

Key words: handwritten Old Believers' collections, monk Avraamiy, Simeon of Suzdal, the Council of Ferrara-Florence, the Florentine union, church reform.

Zhuravel O.D. The Old-Believers' book-written Lamentations: the Problems of the genre typology.

The paper considers the problems of the genre typology and genesis of the Old-Believers' book-written Lamentations of the 17th – 21st century. For the first time ever the author determines the common and differential features of the works, which serve as a basis for scientific identification of the Old-Believers' Lamentations as separate genre category. The author examines how the Old-Believers' writers used the stylistic features, images and tropes of the folklore Lamentations.

Shipilov, I.A. Perception of the Siberian Indigenous Peoples' Culture by the Foreign and Russian Travelers in the XVIII Century.

The article is devoted to the changing perception of the Siberian ethnic culture by the European (P.J. von Strahlenberg, D.G. Messerschmidt, G.F. Müller, J.G. Gmelin, G.W. Steller, P.S. Pallas, J.P. Falck, J. Billings) and Russian (S.P. Krashennnikov, V.F. Zuev and other) travelers in the XVIII century as a result of empirical studies of the lifestyle, rites and customs of the Siberian aborigines. The author deals with questions of ethnological (ethnographical) discourse between those travelers who went to Siberia and studied the Siberian population on place, and those representatives of Enlightenment (G.W. von Leibniz, F. Voltaire, J.-J. Rousseau, J.G. Herder) who wrote about the people of Siberia, but had never visited the region. The paper also covers the topical question of G.F. Müller's, P.S. Pallas's and other foreign scientists' mediating role between the European and Russian science.

Key words: academic expeditions, ethnic culture, ethnological (ethnographical) discourse, Enlightenment.

Matkhanova, N.P. Memoirs of the Representatives of Siberian's Indigenous Peoples (XIX century).

This article describes the memoirs written by the representatives of Siberian indigenous peoples. The author dates the origin of this phenomenon; names the main authors; analyzes the contents of major sources. The memoirs of the representatives of Siberian indigenous peoples were influenced by the Russian culture, but the most outstanding written works demonstrate the historical and ethnical consciousness of their authors.

Key words: history of Siberia, XIX century, memoirs, Siberian's indigenous people.

Pershina, M.V. «Spiritual will» of Ivan Rodionovich Legostaev.

The article is devoted to analysis of the little known works by Tumen's old believer I.R. Legostaev written during his exile in Transbaikalian region in the middle of the 19 century. The two works «Besedoslovie» are considered as a variant of «spiritual will» sent to co-religionists to the city of Tumen. Analysis of «Besedoslovie» allows to extend the well known biographical information about this distinctive writer and specify ideology and religion of the Tumen old believers.

Key words: old believers' works, spiritual will, statement of belief, confession.

Zolnikova, N.D. Preaching among the «Strangers» (the Amur Sredniki in the Second Half of the XX Century).

The paper is devoted to the phenomenon of the missionary preaching activities of an Old-Believer from the Far Eastern Sredniki – an Old-Believers' «agreement», which was on the verge of vanishing in the second half of the XX century. The author studies the mechanisms used by the confession members for turning «strangers» into «our people».

Key words: Old Believers, sermon, spiritual antichrist, Orthodox sacraments.

Lyutov, S.N. The Krasnoyarsk Branch of the Military Publishing House of the People's Commissariat of Defense during the Great Patriotic War (publication of documents).

The published documents contain the information about the creation and activities of one of the branches of the military publishing houses in 1941–1944 in Krasnoyarsk. They depict the specific character of the work of military publishing house whose printed output was delivered to the troops dislocated in Siberia, Central Asia and in the Far East.

Key words: Military publishing house, Krasnoyarsk branch, military literature, printed output.

Ismailov, A.M. Russian-Language Books in Kazakhstan: Results and Problems of Development (1992–2008).

The article contains the analysis of problems of the Russian-language book publishing in the Republic of Kazakhstan. The author touches upon a topical question referring to investigation of the Russian-language book publishing in a newly formed state on the territory of former Soviet Republic of Kazakhstan. The article deals with the historiography and the sources connected with the theme under consideration, the role of the Russian-language book as the cultural phenomenon in the post-soviet period. For the first time in the book-studying practice the given materials reconstruct the general tendency of the Russian-language book-editing process in Kazakhstan after the events of 1991, the topics of the book production.

Key words: Russian-language book, edition, post-soviet period, book-studying process, a newly formed state.

Gareeva, I.V. The Book Products in Post-Soviet Siberia: on the Questions of Reliability of the Official Book Statistics.

The article considers the problems of accounting the local bookwork in various parts of Siberia. Based on the data from the regional libraries' bibliographic indexes the author reveals the dynamics of Siberian book publishing industry; shows the structural reorganization of publishing system in the whole metaregion and considers the book release dynamics in different thematic sections.

Key words: Siberia, publishing production, statistics, bibliographic index, tematiko-topological structure

Ablazhey, N.N. The Kazakh Diaspora in Xinjiang: History and Prospects of Ethnical Migration to Kazakhstan.

The article analyzes the problems of mobility of the Kazakhs during the pre-revolutionary, Soviet and Post-Soviet periods both in Kazakhstan and China in the context of ethnical migration studies. The author presents the dynamics of ethnical migration in the XX-early XXI centuries; shows the relation between the population size and migration processes in Kazakhstan; studies the geopolitical, ethno-demographic and socioeconomic aspects of migrations.

Key words: ethnic migration, emigration and re-emigration, repatriation policy.

Panchenko, A.B. Problems of Ethnology in the Scientific Discourse in the Last Third of the XIX – First Third of the XX Century.

The article is devoted to the history of ethnology in Russia in the last third of the XIX – first third of the XX centuries. It presents three theoretical-methodological approaches to understanding ethnography as part of geography and ethnography; considers major ethnological concepts of the representatives of Eurasianism.

Key words: history of ethnography, ethnology, ethno-geography, theory of ethnos, Eurasianism.

Berezikov, N.A. Cossacks-Explorers and Aboriginal Peoples of Siberia: the First Encounters and Creation of Images.

The article deals with the initial stages of interaction between the Cossacks – discoverers of hitherto unknown lands and the aboriginal peoples of southern parts of Siberia. The author uses historical legends to demonstrate stereotypes of cultural interconnection. Synchronization of data obtained from the folklore sources and documents allows describing various forms of interactions between aborigines and colonizers (with domination of violent acts in solving any conflicts).

Key words: ethnic interaction, Cossacks-explorers, communicative culture, servicemen.

Barantseva, N.A. Population of Southern Areas of Middle Siberia During the Demographic Transition (Late XIX – 1st Quarter of the XX century).

The paper estimates the level of reproduction of population in the Yenisei region (birth rate, death rate, natality, nuptiality) in the context of demographic transition theory. The population dynamics of southern parts of Middle Siberia allow both to reveal the patterns typical for the whole country and to show the regional peculiarities.

Key words: population of Middle Siberia, type of reproduction, ethnic communities, age-sex pattern.

Badmaev, A.A. Housing and Settlement Complex of the Buryats in the late XVII – XVIII centuries.

The article deals with transformation of the housing and settlement complex of the Buryats in the late XVII – XVIII centuries. The work is based on the literary and archival sources. The research shows the continuity of the types of dwelling houses and forms of Buryat settlements. The author also studies the specific character of dwellings made by different sub-ethnic groups.

Key words: the Buryats, life sustenance culture, settlements, ethno-local group.

Dayrabaeva, A.A. The Traditional Weaving of the Kazakhs in Southern Parts of the Steppe Zone in Western Siberia (On the Question of Preservation of Traditions).

The paper is aimed at revealing traditions of the Khazakhs in Western Siberia. It describes the types of loomwork most typical for this ethnical group; characterizes the production and decoration technics; demonstrates local peculiarities and borrowings.

Key words: Kazakhs of Western Siberia, weaving, pileless carpet.

Burnakov, V.A. The Eagle – Ancestor in Myths and Ceremonial Practices of the Khakas Shamanism.

The paper deals with the image of the Eagle in the traditional beliefs of the Khakas; considers its links with ancestor worship. On the basis of literary sources and original archival materials the author analyzes the role of the Eagle in myths and ritual practices of the Khakas shamans.

Key words: the Khakas, the Eagle, fetish, ancestor worship, shamanism.

Lyubimova, G.V. Semantics of Snow in the Traditional Culture of the Russian Population in Siberia (On the Winter Cycle Ritual Materials).

The article deals with the ritual use of snow in the winter rites of the Russian population in Siberia. On the basis of analysis of the folklore texts, forms of rites and games connected with the Christmas-tide and Pancake-week the author reveals the agrarian-productive meaning of the snow rituals and magical practices which were part of the Siberian peasants' calendar.

Key words: traditional culture of Russians in Siberia; calendar ritual cycles of the Christmas-tide and Pancake week, semantics of snow.

Bolonev, F.F. Old-Believers of the Tarbagatay Volost (Transbaikalia) Doing their Military Service in the Russian Army in the 1st Quarter of the XIX century.

The paper characterizes the military service of the Semeiskie Old-Believers in the Russian army in the 1st quarter of the XIX century.

The new materials introduced by the author for scientific use prove that these peasants were liable for military service and participated in the Crimean and Austerlitz operations and in the Patriotic War of 1812.

Key words: Transbaikalia, the Semeiskie, Old-Believers, army, recruits.

Yerokhin, V.V. The Orthodox Church in the Southern Parts of the Russian Far East in the Middle of the XIX Century: on the Question of the Mission's Chronology.

The article considers the formation of the missionary structure of the Russian Orthodox Church in the Lower Amur area; reveals factors which influenced propagation of Christianity. Based on the diaries of the first head of the Amur mission, the Orthodox priest Gavriil Veniaminov the author describes the methods of the mission's educating activities among the peoples of the Far East.

Key words: Orthodoxy in the Far East, Innocent Veniaminov, Gavriil Veniaminov, mission.

Savinova, T.N. Catalogues and Card Indexes as a Source of History of the Library Science in the Orenburg Province in the XIX – the beginning of the XX Centuries.

The paper deals with problems of organizing and keeping the catalogues and card files in the libraries of the Orenburg province in the XIX – early XX centuries, starting from the first scientific library, founded in 1855, and finishing with the library of the country council (zemstvo) in 1915. The author gives information about the book classification in systematic catalogues; about special card registers of the Orenburg branch of the Russian Geographical Society and Orenburg scientific archives committee; about personal participation of the compilers. On the basis of catalogues and card indexes analysis the author analyzes the structure of book fund and the state of the library science in the region.

Key words: Libraries, catalogues, card files, Orenburgs province, book fund, library science history, Russian Geographical society, Orenburgs scientific archives committee.

Dampilova, L.S. Single Semantic Field of the Shaman Rite and Text.

The paper gives a comparative analysis of the shaman consecration rites among the Buryats; mainly on the basis of materials from the early XX century and on the data collected by the author in the beginning of the 2000s. It is shown that a text accompanying a rite explains and supplements the semantic field of the latter; also the significance of the extant archaic texts is stressed.

Key words: shamanism of the Buryats, ritual, motet, sacral space, time, first ancestors, divinities.

Korusenko, M.A. The Image of Albasty in Mythological Beliefs of the West Siberian Tatars (on the Field Data of the First Half of the XX – Early XXI Centuries).

The paper summarizes mythological information about the demonic evil creature Albasty collected from the different groups of Siberian Tatars. The paper is written on the folklore materials and on the field data gathered by the author.

Key words: traditional world view, Siberian Tatars, Albasty, demonic character.

The paper describes the stages of evolution of musicology, with special attention to the history of Siberian musical culture and national composer schools of Butyatia, Tuva and Yakutia. The author introduces the main problems and methods of research, the literature and the achievements of Russian scholars. The fundamental questions are: the national folklore, creative work of Siberian composers – representatives of indigenous peoples, as well as various cultural contacts between traditional and professional creative work.

Keywords: Siberian musical culture, creative work of Siberian national composers.

Matveeva, N.S. The International Support to the Regional Ecological-Educational Editions in Russia in the 1990s – the beginning of the XXI century.

The article considers the development of the system of publishing the ecological-educational literature (methodical and handbooks, periodicals, brochures, booklets) in contemporary Siberia. The author shows the features of publishing the non-governmental nature protection organizations in 1990s – the beginning of the XXI century; reveals the regional centers of ecological-educational book publishing; defines the international sources of technical and financial assistance to the printed output connected with ecological education; estimates the international community's contribution to ecological propagation in Siberia.

The key words: ecology, education, protection of nature, the international public organizations, non-governmental nature preserving organizations, publishing activity, periodicals, eco-educational literature, Siberia.

Kozhevnikova, L.A. Fundamental Notions Regarding the Nature and Specific Character of the Library Institutions.

The article is devoted to the nature and peculiarities of institutions existing in the library environment; methods of institutional analysis, forms of institutions and the range of related problems are also examined.

Key words: Institutionalism, institutional domain, norms, cultural patterns, system of values, notions of values

Lizunova, I.V. Mass Media in Contemporary Russia: Between the State and the Media Market.

The article examines the process of the Russian mass media transformation in the post-Soviet period, describes the peculiarities of the media market of Siberia and the Far East at the turn of XX–XXI centuries. Particular attention is paid to specific characteristics of the relationships between the regional power structures and media companies. The author characterizes the state of modern media system in Russia, reveals the main tendencies and contradictions of its formation.

Key words: mass media, periodicals, broadcasting, TV, the media market, media system, the media enterprises.
