OR,

'THE GLEN LUNA FAMILY.

By AMY LOTHROP.

This new work, in spite of the name of 'Amy Lothrop' appearing on the title page, we are constrained to believe to be the work of the same hand that wrote 'Wide Wide World' and 'Queechy.' It bears constant resemblance to the style of Miss Wetherall, but it makes us as a much better book than either of them. The whole conception of the story is much more artistic than either of the other two, and it deserves a wider popularity than either the 'Wide Wide World' or 'Queechy' has attained."—Phida Evening Bulletin.

"As far as we know the early history of the 'Wide Wide World,' it was first bought to be presented to nice little girls; elder sisters were soon found poring over the volumes; next, mothers wondered at the spell that could so enchain the more volatile spirits of the household. After this, papas were not very difficult to convert; for papas like to feel their eyes moisten sometimes with emotions more generous than those excited at the Stock Exchange or in the counting-house."—North American Review for January.

"The success of the 'Wide Wide World' is so great, that it promises to rival in popularity 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.'"

ILLUSTRATED NATURAL HISTORY.

THE MOST CORRECT AND BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED NATURAL HISTORY EVER PUBLISHED.

In 1 Vol. Post 8vo, Price 8s. 6d., emblematically gilt.

NATURAL HISTORY by Rev. J. G. Wood, Illustrated with 450 Engravings designed expressly for this work by William Harvey and engraved in the first style of art by DALZIEL, printed on a superfine tinted paper by Clay; altogether forming the most correct and beautifully illustrated volume that has appeared on Natural History in a popular form.

The principal features of this new edition, are:—

- 1st. Its Accuracy of Information.
 - 2nd. Its Systematic Arrangement.
 - 3rd. Illustrations executed expressly for the work.
 - 4th. New and Authentic Anecdotes.

Although works on Natural History would seem sufficiently numerous to deter any new writer from venturing on the subject, still there is at present no work of a popular character in which accuracy of information, and systematic arrangement, are united with brevity and simplicity of treatment: to supply this void has been the desire of the author of the present volume. The Illustrations, and they will best speak for themselves, have all been expressly designed for the present work, and the combined abilities of the artist (W. Harvey) and the engravers (Messrs. Dalziel) are a guarantee for their accuracy and perfect execution. It has also been an object in the account of each animal to give, as far as possible, New and Authentic Anecdotes, and if this work should induce any one to look upon the great plan of creation, and notice how wonderfully each creature is adapted for its peculiar station by Him who has appointed its proper position, and assigned to each its own duties, the author's aim will have been attained.

In Post 8vo, Price 4s. 6d. or 5s. gilt edges.

THE BATTLES OF THE BRITISH ARMY. By CHARLES MACFARLANE. With Eight Illustrations by Wm. Harvey, emblematically gilt.

In this volume it has been the Author's aim to narrate, in a forcible and interesting style, the most celebrated battles in which the British Army has been engaged, commencing with Crecy, down to the present time.

In Fcap. 8vo, price 4s., or 4s. 6d. gilt edges, emblematically gilt,

THE GREAT CITIES OF THE MIDDLE AGES: their Rise and Progress. A Companion Volume to the "Ancient Cities." By the Rev. T. A. BUCKLEY, M.A. With Eight Illustrations from Designs by Wm. Harvey.

This volume, on the Great Cities of the Middle Ages, will convey to the young student especially a great deal of valuable and useful information; and the volume is produced in such a style, as to make it a very pleasant "Hand-Book of History," and as such, very appropriate as a Prize or Gift-Book."

Fcap. 8vo, Price 3s. 6d. or 4s. gilt edges.

VOYAGE AND VENTURE; or, The Romance of Travel and Adventure. Illustrated with Eight Engravings.

A volume of excitement for the fireside: in it are narrations of perilous incidents in naval life—by famine, fire, and wreck, as well as in the busy stir of war; the calm decision of Nelson at the Nile; the career of the soldier in tented field and siege; an instance of the firm and steady purpose of Wellington at Vittoria, as well as his kindly care for others, by an eye-witness. Here, also, are the adventures of hardy hunters in the Indian wilds, and their many hair-breadth escapes when in pursuit of savage animals, or their greater peril the wild Indian.

Fcap. 8vo, Price 2s. 6d. or 3s. gilt edges.

LAURA TEMPLE; a Tale for the Young. A very Elegantly Printed Volume, with Frontispiece and Vignette. Emblematically gilt.

Fcap. 8vo, Price 3s. or 3s. 6d. gilt edges.

THE ISLAND HOME; being the Adventures of Six Young Crusoes, cast on a Desolate Island. With Illustrations.

"Here were realized
My boyhood's earliest dream of isles that lie
In farthest depths of ocean, girt with all
Of natural wealth and splendour—jewelled isles
Boundless in unimaginable spoils
That earth is stranger to."

In One Volume, post 8vo, price 7s., cloth, gilt.

MILES TREMENDERE: an Original Novel. By Mrs. MAILLARD, authoress of "Zingra, the Gipsy." With Four Illustrations.

"Of 'Zingra the Gipsy,' which has only been published six months, upwards of 14,000 copies have been sold; it has been reviewed as a story of great and singular beauty; the brilliancy of the dialogue—which is the life and soul of a novel—as well as the pictures of gipsy life in the forest, at once enchant and fascinate the reader. The depth and strength of woman's love were never more accurately delineated: since James's best tale, we have had nothing half as excellent in its way."

In One Volume, post 8vo, price 7s., cloth, gilt.

JANE SETON; or, The King's Advocate. By JAMES GRANT, Esq., author of the "Romance of War," &c. Illustrated by John Gilbert.

"The estimation in which Mr. Grant's books are held, is best evinced from the fact that of the 'Romance of War' upwards of 25,000 copies, and of the 'Aide-de-Camp' 20,000 copies have been sold."

New Edition Illustrated, 1s. or 1s. 6d. cloth gilt.

THE MAY FLOWER; or, Sketches of Scenes and Characters. By Mrs. HARRIET STOWE, Author of "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

Fcap. 8vo, Price 3s. 6d. or 4s. gilt edges.

THE SEVEN WONDERS OF THE WORLD; and their Associations. Illustrated with Eight Engravings, executed in the first style.

"The Seven Wonders of the World" are among the traditions of our childhood, and yet it is a remarkable fact, that ninety-nine persons out of a hundred who might be asked the question, could not name them. Time has not been able to erase these wonders from the page of history. Marvels they have continued; and, as some of these vast fabrics are constantly brought before us in connection with Biblical History, the reader will in this volume find all the information that could be gathered respecting these mightiest works of man.

In Fcap. 8vo, Price 5s. cloth, gilt back.

INFLUENCE; or, The Evil Genius. By the author of a "Trap to Catch a Sunbeam," &c., with Eight Illustrations from designs by John Gilbert.

In One Volume, price 1s. 6d., boards; or 2s. cloth lettered, POLISH LANCER (The), or 1812. A Tale of Napoleon's Invasion of Russia. By LOUIS RELLSTAB.

"A book, the exciting scenes of which are only equalled by the 'Romance of War,' by Grant, and an admirable companion to those justly favourite volumes."

"Of incident there is certainly an abundance. The real fascination of the book resides in the account of the advance to Moscow, of the conflagration of the city, and subsequent retreat. The great power and truthfulness with which those scenes are depicted, convey the impression that the writer was an eye-witness of the scenes he so well describes."—Blackwood's Magazine.
