

KASHMIR AND KASHGHAR.

PRINTED BY BALLANTYNE AND COMPANY
EDINBURGH AND LONDON

KASHMIR AND KASHGHAR.

A NARRATIVE OF THE JOURNEY OF THE EMBASSY TO KASHGHAR IN 1873-74.

BY

H. W. BELLEW, C.S.I.

SURGEON-MAJOR, BENGAL STAFF CORPS,

Author of "Journal of a Mission to Kandahar in 1857-58,"

"Grammar and Dictionary of the Pukkhito Language,"

"From the Indus to the Tigris," &c.

LONDON:
TRÜBNER & CO., LUDGATE HILL.
1875.

[All rights reserved.]

CONTENTS.

INTRODUCTION.

	PAGE
Steppe Country—Agricultural Settlements—Natural Productions—Prevalent Diseases—Climatic Influence—Ancient Inhabitants—Early Conquest by China—Conversion to Islam—Invasion by Mughol—Campaigns of Tymur—The Mughol Khans—Expedition into Tibet—The Khoja Usurpation—Tungani Rebellion—Atalik Ghazi	1

CHAPTER I.

Preparation for the March—Halt at Murree—Departure from Murree—The Nara or “Cord” Rope Bridge—Manner of Using It—An Incident of Camp Life—The Jhāla or “Swing Bridge”—Valley of the Jhelam River—The “Costum” of the Ancients—Ruins of Ancient Temples—The Kaddal Bridge	33
---	----

CHAPTER II.

Visit from Diwan Badri Nath—River View of Srinaggar—Character of the Architecture—Scenes on the River Banks—Floating Gardens of the Dall.—The Death of “Jingo”—Visit to the Maharaja—Banquet in the Ranbir Bagh—The Kashmir Bayadere—A Review of the Kashmir Garrison—Departure from Srinaggar Delayed—Story of a Pilgrim	57
---	----

CHAPTER III.

Visit to a Silk Filature—The Maharaja visits the Envoy—March away from Srinaggar—The Valley of the Sind River—Mountain Scenery at Sona Marg—Pass from Kashmir to Tibet—Crossing of the Zojila Pass—Winter Quarters in Kashmir—Change of Climate and Scene—The Bhot Cooly—Abandoned Gold Diggings—Polo at Kargil—Dress of the Bhot Peasant—Buddhist Religious Buildings—Deserted Village	83
---	----